THIS IS ME

Senior product designer with a strong sense for both strategy and craft. I take products from the first why to a shipped solution, guide stakeholders toward decisions that create real value and still love getting into the details of the design. Currently designing digital healthcare together with clinicians, with data and AI as a natural part of my everyday work.

EDUCATION

EXPERIENCE

Product Designer
Din Psykolog, Stockholm Oct 2024-

Leading design from strategy to finished product and guiding stakeholders and leadership toward decisions grounded in insights and business value. Responsible for making design carry through the product team, the wider organisation and our external presence, in daily close collaboration with our psychologists.

Selected impact

- Replaced an external iCBT provider with our own programs, saving 1.5 MSEK a year and creating a new revenue stream, higher iCBT usage and 15 percent more journal generation.
- Built the design organisation from scratch and created our new brand.
- Built a design system used by both design and development, giving developers ready components and keeping the product consistent.
- Redesigned the website and launched new services for users and psychologists, built on user insights.
- Created a continuous insight practice with interviews, A/B tests and in-service surveys, and automated the monthly insight report and slide deck from PostHog data.
- Build working prototypes and ship smaller design improvements to production myself through an AI flow with Claude, Figma, Linear and Slack.
- Coached leadership and colleagues in AI and data-driven work.

Digital Designer
EGGS, Part of Sopra Steria, Stockholm Aug 2022-Sep 2024

As a design consultant I worked across service, UX and UI design, from user research to hi-fi designs, always connecting business value with user needs. For Diplocs I designed an omnichannel payment solution together with an agile development team and built the client's design system and visual identity. For Wayout I led the shift to a user-driven digital dashboard in close collaboration with stakeholders and the scrum team.

Business Developer and Product Owner
Netlight, Stockholm Aug 2021-Aug 2022

User Researcher
C2 Management, Stockholm Jan 2021-June 2021
